3-C Con 2010: Who should Attend

The 3-C Con 2010 Annual Scientific Session is intended for all Practicing Physicians, Medical Doctors and Post Graduate Medical Students. All registrants will be enriched through the comprehensive programming, stimulating discussions and the Exposition.

3-C Con 2010: Program Goals

- ▶ To facilitate knowledge acquisition and exchange regarding global issues and challenges related to cardiovascular care and disease prevention
- ▶ To offer education that integrates the best practices of cardiovascular specialists and related health care professionals working in multidisciplinary teams
- ▶ To provide a forum in which scientists and investigators working in cardiovascular disease can exchange new and continuing research
- ▶ To emphasize the translation of evidence-based cardiovascular science and clinical trial data into daily clinical practice
- ▶ To offer needs-based educational programming, including the comprehensive review of current established practice patterns and state-of-the-art updates and techniques in the diagnosis and treatment of cardiovascular disease
- ▶ To provide registrants with the opportunity to update their knowledge of available pharmaceuticals, medical devices and literature through interactions with industry representatives
- ▶ To disseminate information related to practice management, quality of care, ethical practices and other non-clinical topics of importance to practicing cardiovascular physicians
- ▶ To foster relationships between and within groups of cardiovascular professionals with similar clinical, geographic and/or educational interests
